

DVD/Blu Ray Policy

1. There is no limit on the number of DVDs and Blu Rays a patron, age 10 and above, may borrow. Patrons below the age of 10 may borrow DVD/Blu Rays without a parent/guardian present as long as he/she has presented library staff with a letter giving the child permission to borrow the materials. Library staff does not censor or monitor the video materials borrowed by minor patrons, and does not restrict the borrowing of such materials according Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) ratings or any other criteria
2. DVDs/Blu Rays may be borrowed for a period of seven library days.
3. DVDs/Blu Rays may be returned in the book drop.
4. It is the responsibility of the patron to pay the replacement cost of the lost or damaged DVDs/Blu Rays. Failure to do so may result in prosecution according to N.H. RSA 202-A:24. As with other library materials, damaged or lost DVDs/Blu Rays become the property of the patron once the library receives the replacement cost of the video.
