Anonymous Communications Policy

The Library Board of Trustees is genuinely interested in communication from the public and the Newington community with respect to the library and its function. However, information that is received anonymously lacks basis for verification, and honoring such correspondence may only serve to encourage irresponsible claims, accusations, and unsubstantiated gossip. Accordingly, anonymous correspondence will not be entered into any record and may be destroyed upon receipt by the director or the Library Board of Trustees, with the single exception as follows:

In the event that the communication raises a question of the immediate safety of any person, persons or property, such information should be shared immediately with the director and/or the Library Board of Trustees, who will make a determination whether to relay the information to law enforcement for investigation. Examples of such information include bomb or fire threats, threats of bodily harm against a person or persons, information regarding child abuse or molestation, etc. In the event that investigation is undertaken, any persons directly related will be advised of the nature of the anonymous information, as permitted by law.

Art Display Policy

1. The Langdon Library offers numerous opportunities to display all types of art in and outside the facility.

2. The Board of Trustees and Director encourage the display of various forms of art in the many available areas of the library. The acceptance and determination of placement of articles will be at the discretion of the Director and Board of Trustees.

3. Art may be labeled with the artist’s name and, if being offered for sale, a purchase price.

4. Art may be donated to the Library as governed by the Library policy of accepting gifts.

5. Not all donated or loaned material will be displayed at all times. This will be determined by display management and Library programming.

6. The library may remove individual items from public display at the sole discretion of the Library Board of Trustees.

Revised and approved by the board of trustees August 22, 2019
Child Safety Policy

The Library Trustees and staff are dedicated to providing a safe environment that encourages children of all ages to visit the library, attend programs, and use the library resources and computers. The trustees and staff request that parents/guardians/caregivers consider the safety and wellbeing of their children and the needs of other library users by cooperating with the following:

Basic Safety Considerations:

The parent/guardian/caregiver is responsible for the safety, behavior, and supervision of their children.

The library staff does not act in place of parents (in loco parentis).

The library is not designed or licensed to provide child care. The library is not a closed environment and staff members cannot monitor everyone who enters or leaves the library premises.

The library staff members are available to help and support children. Though staff will always respond with care and concern, they cannot assume responsibility for the child’s safety and comfort.

Behavior/Conduct:

Like all library users, children are expected to comply with the Patron Use Policy.

Behaviors that could potentially result in injury, or be disruptive to library patrons, are not permitted. Such behaviors include, but are not limited to, running, jumping, climbing, shouting, pushing, hitting, throwing objects, or disrupting/damaging displays or on-going activities.

The library staff reserves the right to speak to the child and parent/guardian/caregiver about disruptive/unsafe behavior and request that it stop.

Unattended Children:

For the purpose of this policy, an unattended child refers to a child who is in the library alone without parent/guardian/caregiver supervision.

Children age 9 years old and younger must be accompanied by a responsible adult or caregiver aged 16 or older. Children aged 9 or younger may not be left unattended in the library for any amount of time. The responsible caregiver must have contact information for an adult who is legally responsible for the child.
Children 5 years old and younger must be directly supervised by a responsible adult or caregiver age 16 or older in all rooms of the library, including the children’s room.

The parent/guardian/caregiver should be aware of the library closing hours. Children left unattended at closing time will have the opportunity to contact an adult. If no contact can be made, the library staff reserves the right to determine how long to stay with the child in the library past closing. If no contact can be made after a reasonable amount of time has lapsed the staff member will notify the Newington Police Department to take custody of the child.

Computer Use:

The library has public internet computers and open wireless internet access, which are not filtered or password protected.

Children increasingly use the internet as a source of both fun and education. While it is a wonderful resource, there can be inherent dangers attached to using the internet. The library staff do not monitor what a child is accessing on the computer.

Missing Child:

If it is suspected or reported that a child is missing, the staff members will do an immediate and rapid search of the building while calling out to the child.

If the child is not located after completing the search, a staff member will immediately call 911.

Circulation Policy

1. Print materials and Television Series DVD sets can be checked out for two weeks. DVDs and BlueRays can be checked out for one week. Materials can be renewed, as long as the material has not been reserved by another individual. Renewals may be placed by speaking to library staff in person or via the telephone, e-mail, or through the website.

2. Non circulating collections include reference materials, portions of the New Hampshire Books Collection, and the local history collection. The use of other library materials may be limited when excessive demands of groups or individuals curtail service to the general public.

3. Patrons can reserve library materials in person, via telephone or e-mail. Patrons are notified by phone or e-mail, and the materials are held for one weekday. If reserved materials are not claimed within 3 library business days, the next person on the reserve list will be contacted, or the material will be re-shelved.

4. The Langdon Library fosters an environment that is for free use by its patrons. Therefore, there are no imposed fees for overdue items returned. Lost or damaged materials are to be paid for in full by the patron. Once the library receives the replacement cost of the materials(s), the damaged material(s) becomes the property of the patron.

5. Patrons are notified of overdue library materials. If the patron fails to return the materials after receipt of two notices (one of which was sent by certified mail and contains a copy of N.H. RSA 202-A:25), the matter will be addressed by the Board. In extreme cases, local law enforcement may be contacted to retrieve the library materials. The library may use small claims court, and in this event, will seek from the patron payment of small claims court filing fees in addition to the cost of the library materials.

Revised and approved by the board of trustees August 22, 2019
Confidentiality of Patron Records Policy

1. The Langdon Library is committed to preserving the confidentiality of all personally identifiable information about library use in accordance with N.H. RSA 201-D:11. The Library strives to create a library environment that is:

- Crime free
- Welcoming
- A place for learning and pursuit of information on any topic
- A place where library users can ask any question and discuss any topic

2. In support of these goals, the Library will do its utmost to uphold the privacy and confidentiality of library users’ free access to information in accordance with NH state law and the American Library Association’s Code of Ethics which states that “librarians shall protect each library user’s right to privacy and confidentiality with respect to information sought or received, and resources consulted, borrowed, acquired, or transmitted.”

3. The records of children who have their own library card are subject to the same privacy restrictions as the records of adult borrowers, and the library is not able to share those records with others, including parents. (In 2001 and 2003 bills were introduced in the State House to specifically allow the release of minors' records to their parents. Both bills failed.)

Parents who want their children to have their own library cards need to know that the library won’t be able to share with them information about their child’s records, including titles of checkouts, holds, renewals, overdues and fines, and other library services.

The Langdon library recognizes that there may be situations when records regarding library use by individual users will be requested with the consent of the user or pursuant to subpoena, court order, or where otherwise required by statute. Refer to our Response to Law Enforcement Policy.

Approved by the Board of Trustees April 2019
Facility Usage Policy

1. To achieve the goal of good library service, the Board of Trustees accepts the responsibility of ensuring that the public library building facilities will meet the physical requirements so that high quality services can be provided.

2. The Board of Trustees accepts the responsibility of securing funds needed for the facility and its operation.

3. The community bulletin board at the Library is used to provide the general public with information about programs, cultural events and resources available in the immediate area and throughout the state (space permitting). Any commercial use will be limited to a posting of 30 days. The Director will attempt to display this material in an equitable manner. The Director may refuse to post any information if, in his/her discretion, is deemed to be inappropriate, including but not limited to postings containing profanity or obscenity of any kind. Any group or individual whose materials have been refused by the Director may appeal the decision to the Library Board, which will address the issue at its next, regular Board meeting.

4. Meeting space in the library may be available during library hours and may be reserved for use by educational, civic, cultural, and governmental groups at no cost.

5. The Langdon Library offers a number of rooms and spaces which are available to support Library Programming and for other uses. The facilities include:

7. The public is encouraged to utilize the facilities rooms/areas within the guidelines, rules and policies of the Langdon Library, as adopted by the Langdon Library Board of Trustees and interpreted by trustees, the Library director and Library staff.
8. In the case of scheduling conflicts, the following order of preference will determine the use of facilities:

- Other uses

9. Reservations are not required but are suggested for different rooms and areas. Reservations may be requested at the Library Circulation desk, the Library Website and by telephone (603-436-5154) or email to info@LangdonLibrary.org.

10. Reservations are on a first come, first served basis within the constraints of the preference and usage policies.

11. Recurring reservations will be accepted. Non-use of a reservation may be considered as a factor in determining or altering current usage or future reservations.

12. A responsible representative (Single Point of Contact) will be specified for the reservation. All communications concerning a reservation or use will be channeled through the Single Point of Contact.

13. The Board of Trustees or Director may change or alter a reservation to support:

- Facility availability (i.e. Library closure, weather, construction, conflicts with other programs)
- A use which is higher on the precedence list
- Other – as needed

14. Every effort will be made to reschedule and/or provide alternate arrangements and to avoid last minute changes.

15. The interior facilities (everything but the patio and external grounds) are to be used during the normal open hours of the Library. Usage at other times will be considered on a case-by-case basis. A Trustee, staff member, or other authorized person will be responsible for opening and closing of the facility.

16. A fee may be required to off-set facility and other costs as determined by the Library Board of Trustees. A schedule of fees will be available at the Circulation desk. Any fee will be made payable to the “Langdon Library”.

17. Additional insurance for use of the facilities is generally not required. If deemed necessary by the Director or Board of Trustees, this it will be specified during the reservation process with proof provided to the Director prior to use.

18. The Single Point of Contact will be held responsible for any damages to the facility.
19. If a fee for attendance or participation in an event is charged by an organizer, a percentage of the fee will be provided to the Library. Fees will not be determined by the Library Board of Trustees. Any and all fees or other requirements may be waived by the Library Board of Trustees at their discretion. Donations may be made in lieu of a fee percentage.

20. Set up and take down of the facilities is the responsibility of the user. The user is expected to leave the area in at least as good and hopefully better condition than they found it.

21. The library will not normally provide personnel or equipment and supplies to groups using the meeting room to assist in handling exhibits.

22. Schools requesting the services of a Library librarian - either on Library premises or off - shall be responsible for the librarian’s compensation at his or her regular hourly wage.

23. Any damages to the Library's meeting space will be the responsibility of the organization using the building.

24. Anyone wishing to use the library or its facilities at any time outside of the hours that the library is open for business may make such a request, in writing, for consideration by the director and the board of trustees.

- Requests will be considered on a case-by-case basis
- Requests will be considered at the next scheduled meeting of trustees
- Use of the facility after hours requires that the library director or a trustee take responsibility for opening and closing the building and remaining on-site for the entire time of use.
- The library director may, at her sole discretion, assign these responsibilities (opening, closing, monitoring) to a staff member.

Updated (section 24 added) January 24, 2019 by vote of the trustee board

2. Library Staff will provide assistance in using the fax machine. The fax number is 603-570-2024.

4. The use of the fax machine or copier for illegal purposes is prohibited. The Library does not monitor the use of the fax machine and copier. If, however, the library staff becomes aware of illegal conduct with respect to the use of this equipment, they will contact the appropriate authorities.

Material Selection Policy

1. Ultimate responsibility for selection of library materials lies with the Board; however the Board shall delegate to the Director the authority and the responsibility for selection of library materials and for the development of the collection. Examples of methods that the Director will use to select materials for the library are reading professional review materials, e.g., Booklist and Library Journal, evaluating patron requests, and recommendations from colleagues.

2. The Trustees endorse those sections of the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights and Freedom to Read Statements which concerns themselves with the material selection. Copies of these documents are included in the Library's policies, and they are available for those who wish to study them (see appendices).

3. Each material chosen for the Langdon Public Library shall be judged individually on the basis of its merit, subject matter, reader interest, and the need for such a material in a balanced library. Materials shall be evaluated in total, as a complete work and in the context of all its parts. The merit of the whole material shall be the basis for choosing the material.

4. The Library collection covers a general range of subjects; however, there may be moderate emphasis placed on the local history collection (NH books) to support patron interest. If funds are available, there may be emphasis on certain curriculum-related materials.

5. In areas considered controversial, more than one point of view shall be represented by materials in the Library. These materials may represent points of view sometimes considered unorthodox or unpopular by the majority.

6. While collections for adults and children are housed in separate areas, the library staff will not:
   - Act in loco parentis
   - Censor or label materials in a manner that promotes bias
   - Restrict access to library materials because of race, religion, gender, or socioeconomic status

7. Parents are the appropriate judges for their own children's library materials, and staff members encourage those who wish to supervise their children's borrowing to accompany them on library visits.

8. In the event that a patron objects to an item or items in the collection, he/she shall be asked to fill out a "Request for Reconsideration of Materials" form (see appendix). This form will be reviewed by the Library Board of Trustees and the Library Director at the next monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees. Consideration shall be made by the Library Director and the Library Board of Trustees who shall present a written decision to the complainant within six (6) weeks. The decision may be appealed before the Board of Trustees within thirty (30) days. The Board of Trustees ultimately decides on whether or not controversial materials should be kept, re-cataloged, or withdrawn from circulation.

9. Gifts and unsolicited materials may be added to the Library collection. If the materials are not added to the collection, donors are informed that these materials may be sold or given to another institution. Upon request, the Library will provide written notice acknowledging receipt of these materials, but under no circumstances will the Library provide a value statement, for any purpose, to the donor.

10. The Director shall use the Continuous Review Evaluation Weeding (CREW) method of weeding (determining which materials, if any, should be removed from the Library collection at any given time). Materials may be discarded if such materials do not meet stated goals and are in one or more of the following categories:

- Materials in which there is no longer an interest
- Materials that are more than ten years old and have not circulated for five consecutive years
- Duplicate materials
- Materials that are torn or are in irreparable condition
- Materials not listed in the Standard Catalog Series
- Books that may or may not be classics

11. In choosing to weed any particular materials, the Library Director must take all of these factors into consideration and must decide the status of each material on an individual basis. The Director may consult with the State Library on questionable materials. All discarded materials shall be sold, donated to appropriate institutions, or destroyed.

Response to Law Enforcement and Requests for Library User Information policy

The Langdon Library recognizes that there may be situations when records regarding library use by individual users will be requested with the consent of the user or pursuant to subpoena, court order, or where otherwise required by statute.

When Release of information is required by Law:

A. New Hampshire Law, Section 210-D:11 of the New Hampshire Revised Statutes describes the circumstances in which a New Hampshire Public Library must disclose information to a third party. Those circumstances are (1) when requested or authorized by the user, (2) pursuant to a subpoena, (3) pursuant to a court order (including a search warrant) or (4) when otherwise required by statute. It is the policy of the Langdon Library to comply under these circumstances.

B. Federal Law: Title 6 Chapter 1 Section 122 (USA PATRIOT Act of 2001) stipulates that Federal authorities may obtain the records of a public library pursuant to investigation of terrorist activities. If the Library were served with such an order, the Library would be required to disclose patron records and would be prohibited from revealing their disclosure.

Access to library user information may include but not be limited to:

- Database Search Records
- Circulation Records
- Computer Use Records
- Inter-Library Loan Records
- Reference Interviews

To respond appropriately to requests for such information, the Langdon Library adopts the following policies:

Responding to Subpoenas and Search Warrants

All requests for library use information should be forwarded immediately to the Library Director. If the Library Director is not available, a staff member should refer the inquiry to the Chair of the Library Trustees or, if unavailable to another member of the board of Trustees.

If a law enforcement agent or officer or other person has presented a court order, the Library Director, Chair of the Library Board of Trustees or Library Trustee will evaluate the request and arrange for an appropriate response consistent with this policy.

Valid court orders can come in two forms, a subpoena or a search warrant. Subpoenas do not have to be acted on immediately. Search warrants are immediately executable.
Procedures for Complying with Legal Court Orders Presented by Law Enforcement Agents or Officers

The Library staff will comply with law enforcement when supplied with legal subpoena or warrant.

Staff Procedures:

- If anyone approaches you alleging to be law enforcement official requesting information, do not disclose to that individual any information. Immediately contact the Director or Chair of the Library Board of Trustee's or a Library Trustee.

- The Director will ask to see official identification and will photocopy the ID.

- If law enforcement presents a subpoena, library staff should direct that person to the Director who will in turn direct the subpoena to legal counsel.

- If library staff is presented with a warrant, do not interfere with their search and seizure. Immediately refer the party serving the warrant to the Director or an available Trustee.

- Keep a record of all legal requests.

- Keep a record of all cost incurred by any search and/or seizures.

- If the subpoena or search warrant is not confidential, the Director will notify the American Library Association.

- Once the law enforcement agency’s search is concluded, the Director and/or the Board will confer with Library legal counsel to ensure that the Library complies with any remaining requirements, including restrictions on sharing information with other parties. The Library will also review its policies and staff response and make any necessary revisions to this policy.

- The Library Director in consultation with the Library Board of Trustee's shall seek the advise of counsel prior to complying with any court order or subpoena requiring the release of user information. If possible the Library Legal counsel should also be consulted prior to allowing a search to allow counsel to examine the warrant and to ensure that the search conforms to its terms.

Other Policy Issues: Emergency Disclosures of Information

If, in the normal course of business, the library staff observes what can be reasonably construed to be a threat of imminent danger to life and limb they are to contact law enforcement immediately. They should then contact their supervisor or the Library Director or a Trustee and fill out an Incident Report form (see appendix for form).

Procedures Regarding Information Access and Confidentiality

- Database Search Records: These records refer to the searches of the collection a patron may conduct on the Online Public Access Terminals (OPAC). These searches are conducted using the library’s automated circulation system, Atrium (a product of BookSystems Technologies). Once a search is conducted, the software does not retain a copy of the search. No records of the search will exist.

- Circulation Records: Library materials are circulated via the Atrium system. The circulation software tracks materials currently checked out, automatically erasing a reader’s borrowing record once a book is returned and all fines are paid.

- Computer Use Records: The Library has several computers available for use by the public. Library users sign up using first name only to use a computer for a particular period of time. The library tabulates computer use statistics once per month after which all paper records generated during computer sign-ups are destroyed.

- Inter-Library Loan Records: Library users may borrow items not owned by the Langdon Public Library from other libraries statewide via Inter-Library Loan (ILL). The Langdon Public Library tracks items currently being borrowed and generates a paper record with library user information. Once the materials are returned, all appropriate fines and/or fees are paid, and statistics have been recorded, the paper record is destroyed.

- Reference Interviews: A reference interview occurs when a library user looking for information approaches a member of the library staff and the staff person questions or “interviews” the library user in order to determine the specific information needed. No paper record is kept during the interview that has any library user information on it. If a library user’s name and number is taken for future research, and library user information is written down, as soon as the requested information is delivered, the paper record is destroyed.

DVD/Blue Ray Policy

1. There is no limit on the number of DVDs and Blue Rays a patron, age 10 and above, may borrow. Patrons below the age of 10 may borrow DVD/Blue Rays without a parent/guardian present as long as he/she has presented library staff with a letter giving the child permission to borrow the materials. Library staff does not censor or monitor the video materials borrowed by minor patrons, and does not restrict the borrowing of such materials according Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) ratings or any other criteria.

2. DVDs/Blue Rays may be borrowed for a period of seven library days.

3. DVDs/Blue Rays may be returned in the book drop.

4. It is the responsibility of the patron to pay the replacement cost of the lost or damaged DVDs/Blue Rays. Failure to do so may result in prosecution according to N.H. RSA 202-A:24. As with other library materials, damaged or lost DVDs/Blue Rays become the property of the patron once the library receives the replacement cost of the video.

The number and type of volunteers accepted will be based on the amount of work and supervisory time available. The Langdon Public Library will abide by all Federal law, New Hampshire (NH) state law, and NH Department of Labor (DOL) guidelines concerning volunteers at not for profit agencies.

2. Volunteers will be informed of the mission, policies and procedures of the Library. Volunteers are expected to operate within the policies and procedures of the Library and in accordance with the letter and spirit of the Library’s mission.

Wireless Internet Usage Policy

1. The Library remains a public building and use of patron’s own equipment does not exempt users from the provisions in the Internet Acceptable Use Policy.

2. All patrons use the Internet and Wireless Internet at their own risk and are cautioned to use good judgment in doing so. Because of the open nature of the Internet, there are areas that may be deemed inappropriate for viewing in the Library’s public setting. Patrons are expected to be respectful of their fellow patrons, including minor library patrons, when using the Library’s networks, wired or wireless.

3. The Library offers an OPEN, UNSECURED wireless network for public use. The content on this network is not filtered or otherwise blocked.

4. By using the Library’s wireless network, the user agrees that the Library has no responsibility for any personal information that is compromised, or for any damage caused to users’ hardware or software due to security issues or consequences caused by viruses or hacking.

5. Users are responsible for ensuring that their computer has adequate protection against computer viruses, spyware, and any and all other malware that their computer may be exposed to on the Internet or from email attachments, so that it does not infect other devices on the Library network.

6. The Library does not monitor the content accessed by users of the Internet terminals or the online actions of Internet terminal users. If, however, Library staff becomes aware that a user is using the Internet terminal for illegal purposes, Library staff will contact the police.

7. Library staff may verify whether the Library’s wireless connection is up and running, but will not be required to assist in making changes to the user’s network settings or perform any troubleshooting on the user’s computer.

8. The Library cannot guarantee uninterrupted wireless service.

Library Bill of Rights

The American Library Association affirms that all libraries are forums for information and ideas, and that the following basic policies should guide their services.

I. Books and other library resources should be provided for the interest, information, and enlightenment of all people of the community the library serves. Materials should not be excluded because of the origin, background, or views of those contributing to their creation.

II. Libraries should provide materials and information presenting all points of view on current and historical issues. Materials should not be proscribed or removed because of partisan or doctrinal disapproval.

III. Libraries should challenge censorship in the fulfillment of their responsibility to provide information and enlightenment.

IV. Libraries should cooperate with all persons and groups concerned with resisting abridgment of free expression and free access to ideas.

V. A person’s right to use a library should not be denied or abridged because of origin, age, background, or views.

VI. Libraries that make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use.

The Freedom to Read Statement

American Library Association

The freedom to read is essential to our democracy. It is continuously under attack. Private groups and public authorities in various parts of the country are working to remove or limit access to reading materials, to censor content in schools, to label "controversial" views, to distribute lists of "objectionable" books or authors, and to purge libraries. These actions apparently rise from a view that our national tradition of free expression is no longer valid; that censorship and suppression are needed to counter threats to safety or national security, as well as to avoid the subversion of politics and the corruption of morals. We, as individuals devoted to reading and as librarians and publishers responsible for disseminating ideas, wish to assert the public interest in the preservation of the freedom to read.

Most attempts at suppression rest on a denial of the fundamental premise of democracy: that the ordinary individual, by exercising critical judgment, will select the good and reject the bad. We trust Americans to recognize propaganda and misinformation, and to make their own decisions about what they read and believe. We do not believe they are prepared to sacrifice their heritage of a free press in order to be "protected" against what others think may be bad for them. We believe they still favor free enterprise in ideas and expression.

These efforts at suppression are related to a larger pattern of pressures being brought against education, the press, art and images, films, broadcast media, and the Internet. The problem is not only one of actual censorship. The shadow of fear cast by these pressures leads, we suspect, to an even larger voluntary curtailment of expression by those who seek to avoid controversy or unwelcome scrutiny by government officials.

Such pressure toward conformity is perhaps natural to a time of accelerated change. And yet suppression is never more dangerous than in such a time of social tension. Freedom has given the United States the elasticity to endure strain. Freedom keeps open the path of novel and creative solutions, and enables change to come by choice. Every silencing of a heresy, every enforcement of an orthodoxy, diminishes the toughness and resilience of our society and leaves it the less able to deal with controversy and difference.

Now as always in our history, reading is among our greatest freedoms. The freedom to read and write is almost the only means for making generally available ideas or manners of expression that can initially command only a small audience. The written word is the natural medium for the new idea and the untried voice from which come the original contributions to social growth. It is essential to the extended discussion that serious thought requires, and to the accumulation of knowledge and ideas into organized collections.

We believe that free communication is essential to the preservation of a free society and a creative culture. We believe that these pressures toward conformity present the danger of limiting the range and variety of inquiry and expression on which our democracy and our culture depend. We believe that every American community must jealously guard the freedom to publish and to circulate, in order to preserve its own freedom to read. We believe that publishers and librarians have a profound responsibility to give validity to that freedom to read by making it possible for the readers to choose freely from a variety of offerings.

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

   Creative thought is by definition new, and what is new is different. The bearer of every new thought is a rebel until that idea is refined and tested. Totalitarian systems attempt to maintain themselves in power by the ruthless suppression of any concept that challenges the established orthodoxy. The power of a democratic system to adapt to change is vastly strengthened by the freedom of its citizens to choose widely from among conflicting opinions offered freely to them. To stifle every nonconformist idea at birth would mark the end of the democratic process. Furthermore, only through the constant activity of weighing and selecting can the democratic mind attain the strength demanded by times like these. We need to know not only what we believe but why we believe it.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

   Publishers and librarians serve the educational process by helping to make available knowledge and ideas required for the growth of the mind and the increase of learning. They do not foster education by imposing as mentors the patterns of their own thought. The people should have the freedom to read and consider a broader range of ideas than those that may be held by any single librarian or publisher or government or church. It is wrong that what one can read should be confined to what another thinks proper.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

   No art or literature can flourish if it is to be measured by the political views or private lives of its creators. No society of free people can flourish that draws up lists of writers to whom it will not listen, whatever they may have to say.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.
To some, much of modern expression is shocking. But is not much of life itself shocking? We cut off literature at the source if we prevent writers from dealing with the stuff of life. Parents and teachers have a responsibility to prepare the young to meet the diversity of experiences in life to which they will be exposed, as they have a responsibility to help them learn to think critically for themselves. These are affirmative responsibilities, not to be discharged simply by preventing them from reading works for which they are not yet prepared. In these matters values differ, and values cannot be legislated; nor can machinery be devised that will suit the demands of one group without limiting the freedom of others.

5. It is not in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

The ideal of labeling presupposes the existence of individuals or groups with wisdom to determine by authority what is good or bad for others. It presupposes that individuals must be directed in making up their minds about the ideas they examine. But Americans do not need others to do their thinking for them.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people's freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

It is inevitable in the give and take of the democratic process that the political, the moral, or the aesthetic concepts of an individual or group will occasionally collide with those of another individual or group. In a free society individuals are free to determine for themselves what they wish to read, and each group is free to determine what it will recommend to its freely associated members. But no group has the right to take the law into its own hands, and to impose its own concept of politics or morality upon other members of a democratic society. Freedom is no freedom if it is accorded only to the accepted and the inoffensive. Further, democratic societies are more safe, free, and creative when the free flow of public information is not restricted by governmental prerogative or self-censorship.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a "bad" book is a good one, the answer to a "bad" idea is a good one.

The freedom to read is of little consequence when the reader cannot obtain matter fit for that reader's purpose. What is needed is not only the absence of restraint, but the positive provision of opportunity for the people to read the best that has been thought and said. Books are the major channel by which the intellectual inheritance is handed down, and the principal means of its testing and growth. The defense of the freedom to read requires of all publishers and librarians the utmost of their faculties, and deserves of all Americans the fullest of their support.
We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

This statement was originally issued in May of 1953 by the Westchester Conference of the American Library Association and the American Book Publishers Council, which in 1970 consolidated with the American Educational Publishers Institute to become the Association of American Publishers.
